Art Unit: 2829

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-7 and 10-11, drawn to a measuring transformer for comparing a current flowing through a conductor to a reference current, classified in class 324, subclass 117R.
  - II. Claims 12-16, drawn to a method for comparing an inverter current to a predetermined reference current, classified in class 324, subclass 117H.
  - III. Claims 17-22, drawn to a wind power installation, classified in class 324, subclass 158.1.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:
3. Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination is not required to have the conductor connected to the inverter of the wind power. The subcombination has separate utility such as its intended purpose.
4. Inventions I & III and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the apparatus of group I can be practiced with different method steps other method steps of group II.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II and III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Newly submitted claims 12-22 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: as mentioned in previous paragraphs above

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 12-22 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Art Unit: 2829

9. Claim 7 is objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 7, it is unclear whether the inverter has been claimed.

Appropriate correction is required.

10. Claims 1-4,6 and 10-11 are allowable since the prior art does not disclose a reference setting unit for providing on the secondary winding a predetermined reference current and the magnetic flux measuring element provides a difference signal representative of a difference between the reference current and the current flowing through the conductor.

11. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters:

New Non-elected claims 12-22 drawn to different inventions are still pending and the objection of claim 7.

It is necessary to cancel new non-elected claims 12-22 and appropriate correction for claim 7 is required.

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.

12. The proposed drawing corrections for figures 1-2 filed on 08/02/05 have been accepted.

13. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to VINH P. NGUYEN whose telephone number is 571-272-1964.
